

Bio-Data: Wade Alley

Wade Alley is a professor of English at the Universidad Panamericana in Guadalajara. He holds a Bachelor of Arts in German from the University of Southern Indiana and a Master of Arts degree in German language and culture from Illinois State University. Wade has taught German and English since 1996 and has been teaching English in Guadalajara since 2005. He has also taught courses in communications, including a course on Documentary Cinema at the UP. Wade's professional interests include technology in education as well as content and language integrated learning course design.