

Biodata: Darren Rey C. Javier & Giovanni C. Duran

Darren Rey C. Javier is a Senior Education Program Specialist (English, SHS) at the Department of Education – Central Office and an associate member of the National Research Council of the Philippines. A former public secondary school English language teacher, he completed the academic requirements for the Master of Arts in English Language Education (MA ELE) at the Philippine Normal University, Manila. His publications have been published in SCOPUS-indexed journals such as MEXTESOL Journal (Q2), TESOL Journal (Q1), and The Asian Journal of Applied Linguistics (Q4), as well as in Sinaya Journal (AGPCI-indexed; Andrew Gonzalez Philippine Citation Index). He recently reached 200 citations on Google Scholar, and one of his publications in TESOL Journal was recognized by John Wiley & Sons, Inc. as among the journal's top 10 most-cited and most-viewed papers published in 2023. His research interests include artificial intelligence in English language teaching and academic writing. He is currently exploring the impact of Generative Artificial Intelligence (GenAI) on language teaching and learning.

Giovanni C. Duran is a Senior Education Program Specialist at the Department of Education, Philippines. He is a candidate for the Master of Arts in English Language Education at De La Salle University, Manila, and was nominated for the Outstanding Thesis Award for his study on narrative macrostructure among Tagalog-English bilingual children. His research interests include English language education, reading, psycholinguistics, and curriculum development, with a current focus on the impact of generative artificial intelligence on language teaching and learning. He has published in the Journal of English and Applied Linguistics, an indexed, peer-reviewed journal.