

Biodata: Sophie Cuocci

Sophie Cuocci is a French native PhD student who is dedicated to teaching English as a Second Language (ESL) in a meaningful and interactive learning environment. She has taught ESL to both adult and younger learners and is now specializing in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) and technology in Education. She is currently teaching different ESL courses at Seminole State College and is a graduate associate teaching a TESOL undergraduate course at the University of Central Florida, Orlando, Florida.