

Biodata: Ali Elhami & Babak Khoshnevisan

Ali Elhami is a last year doctoral student at the department of Filosofía y Letras at Universidad Autónoma de Madrid (UAM). In his research, he studies culture, migration, international students, acculturation, social adjustment, intergroup contact, identity, and language learning. He is passionate about doing qualitative and quantitative research, writing articles, and group work. Furthermore, he is a member of the editorial board in three international open access journals.

Babak Khoshnevisan is a PhD in Technology in Education and Second Language Acquisition (TESLA) from the University of South Florida (USF). He is an instructor at INTO USF teaching EAP courses. He is also a material developer with an Oxford partnered company. His research interests include teacher education, idiomaticity, augmented reality (AR), virtual reality (VR), and computer-assisted language learning (CALL).

