

Biodata: Kardi Nurhadi, Henny Dwi Iswati, & Septa Aryanika

Kardi Nurhadi is a teacher educator in the Department of English at the Faculty of Education, Universitas Wiralodra, Jawa Barat, Indonesia. His research interests lie in extensive reading, critical reading and literacy, academic reading, technology-mediated task-based language teaching (TMTBLT), teacher professional development, photovoice in language education and emotional geography in language teaching and learning. He is also a reviewer of MexTesol Journal since April 2022. Currently, he is a PhD student of English Language Education Faculty of Letters, Universitas Negeri Malang, Indonesia.

Henny Dwi Iswati is a lecturer in the Department of English at the Faculty Languages and Arts, State University of Surabaya. Her research interest and expertise lie in critical reading, reading for research functional grammar, virtual learning and systemic functional linguistics.

Septa Aryanika is a teacher educator in English Department at the Tarbiyah and Teacher Training Faculty, UIN Raden Intan Lampung, Indonesia. Her research interests lie in writing, reading, literature, linguistics in language education, teacher professional development in language education. Email: septaryanika@radenintan.ac.id