Biodata: Musa Nushi & Alireza Aghaei

Musa Nushi is an Associate professor in TEFL at Shahid Behehsti University in Tehran, Iran. He teaches Academic Writing, Discourse Analysis, Psycholinguistics and Technology in Second Language Teaching and Learning at graduate level. His primary research focus is on the connection between teaching methods and learning EFL, with particular emphasis on the role of technology and personality traits. Musa spent the 2005–2006 academic year teaching Persian as a heritage language at Portland State University, Oregon, USA. His publications have appeared in a number of (inter)national journals, including Reading in a Foreign language, Language Teaching Research, and Asia Pacific Education Review.

Alireza Aghaei earned his MA in teaching English as a foreign language (TEFL) from Shahid Beheshti University, Tehran, Iran. Currently, he is an IELTS trainer and English language instructor at Goftar-e-No Language Academy in Kashan, Iran. With over five years of experience in language education, Alireza has collaborated with various language institute since 2013. His research interests include discourse analysis, critical pedagogy, and second language acquisition (SLA), encompassing both quantitative and qualitative methodologies.