

Biodata: Shima Torabzadeh & Mohammad Hashamdar

Shima Torabzadeh is currently PhD student at Department of English Translation and Teaching, Karaj Branch, Islamic Azad University, Karaj, Iran. Her fields of interests are applied linguistics, teacher education, and Computer-assisted language Learning (CALL).

Dr. Mohammad Hashamdar is currently an Assistant Professor at Department of English Translation and Teaching, Karaj Branch, Islamic Azad University, Karaj, Iran. He obtained his PhD in applied linguistics from University of Science and Research Branch – Iran and participated in several high-profile conferences. In addition to his academic careers, he has published many articles and books. His fields of interests are applied linguistics, sociolinguistics, and teacher education.