

Biodata: Abdul Karim, Muhammad Kamarul Kabilan, Shahin Sultana, Liza Reshmin, & Zohur Ahmed

Abdul Karim is a Ph.D. Fellow at the School of Educational Studies, Universiti Sains Malaysia. He has been awarded the USM Global Fellowship sponsored by the Institute of Postgraduate Studies (IPS). He is also a Lecturer at Brac Institute of Languages, Brac University. He has completed a Master of Arts (Education) By Research from Universiti Sains Malaysia. He has published widely in the field of English language teacher education in numerous international journals (Indexed in SSCI, SCOPUS, and Web of Science).

Muhammad Kamarul Kabilan (Ph.D.) is a Professor at the School of Educational Studies, Universiti Sains Malaysia, Penang. His research interests include ICT and English Language Education and, professional development and critical practices of teachers. He has published widely in his area of research in reputable journals such as TESOL Quarterly, British Journal of Educational Technology, Computer and Education, The Internet and Higher Education, and Professional Development in Education.

Shahin Sultana has received her Ph.D. in English Language Teaching from Goa University, India, as an ICCR Scholar. She holds an M.A. in ELT from East West University, Bangladesh. Currently, she is a lecturer at Notre Dame University, Bangladesh. Her research interests include teaching writing, material designing, testing and evaluation, and second language acquisition. She has published in prestigious international journals and conducted teacher training workshops in Bangladesh and abroad.

Liza Reshmin is the Senior Academic Coordinator and senior lecturer of the BRAC Institute of Languages at Brac University. She developed the speaking and listening classes for the module, integrating critical thinking and service-learning in the classes. She is currently pursuing Ph.D. at Universiti Sains Malaysia, Malaysia. Her research interests include collaborative strategies, critical thinking and assessment, and English Medium Instruction (EMI).

Zohur Ahmed is an Assistant Professor at East West University, Bangladesh. At present he is pursuing his Ph.D. from Universiti Sains Malaysia. He has been teaching English in India and Bangladesh for over fifteen years. He completed M.A English (TESL) and M.Phil in English Language Education from Central Institute of English and Foreign Languages, Hyderabad, India. His research interests include ICT in Language Teaching, Second Language Acquisition, Curricular Innovations, Language Testing and Evaluation.