

Biodata: Rúben Constantion Correia

Rúben Constantino Correia is a qualified Lower Secondary English teacher but now teaches ESP at Algarve University. His career in TEFL spans more than 20 years with experience as a teacher, teacher trainer, author, and researcher. He is a CETAPS member (integrated researcher) and an individual member of EALTA. His main research interest is on speaking proficiency and intelligibility in connection with interculturality, assessment, and affective variables. He holds a PhD in Foreign Language Teaching Methodology, which investigated oral proficiency in the EFL classroom.