

Sasan Baleghizadeh is Associate Professor of TEFL at Shahid Beheshti University (G.C.) in Tehran, Iran, where he teaches courses in applied linguistics, syllabus design, and materials development. He is interested in investigating the role of interaction in English language teaching and issues related to materials development. His published articles appear in both national and international journals including TESL Reporter, TESL Canada Journal, ELT Journal, Language Learning Journal, and Issues in Language Teaching.

Tahereh Karamzadeh holds an MA degree in TEFL from Shahid Beheshti University (G.C.) in Tehran, Iran. Her areas of research are developing oral fluency and creative thinking in EFL students as well as exploring the role of humor in teaching vocabulary to English learners. She currently teaches English at the Iran Language Institute.