

Appendix 1. Evaluation rubric for the WebQuest (authors' creation).

Evaluation of Pronunciation Tutorial
	1 point	2 points	3 points	4 points
Amount of problems found	The team found 2-3 problems.	The team found 4-7 problems.	The team found 8-14 problems.	The team found more than 15 problems.
Solutions found for each problem.	The team has one solution for each problem.	The team has 2 solution for each problem.	The team has 2 solutions for each problem and the graphic organizer is clear. The solutions are creative.	The team has 2 solutions for each problem and the graphic organizer is clear and neat- looking. The solutions are creative and you give tips to improve certain sounds.
Activities for each solution.	There is an activity for each solution.	There is an activity for each solution. The activity is well-organized.	There is an activity for each solution. The activity is well-organized. The activity is also easy to understand and enjoyable/fun.	There is an activity for each solution. The activity is well-organized. The activity is also easy to understand and enjoyable/fun. The activity focuses on specific pronunciation problems and provides a way to practice the sound.
Script	The script was turned in.	The script is well-structured and follows the format.	The script is well-structured and follows the format. It also contains all elements.	The script is well-structured and follows the format. It also contains all elements. Finally, it is synchronized with the video.
Video	The video was turned in. One of the team members appears in the video. There are more than 20 pronunciation errors.	The video was turned in and uploaded to youtube. Two of the team members appear in the video. There are between 15-20 pronunciation errors.	The video was turned in and uploaded to youtube. The audio is clear and the quality of the video is good. Three of the team members appear in the video. There are 10-15 pronunciation errors.	The video was turned in and uploaded to youtube. The audio is clear and the quality of the video is good. All team members appear in the video. There are less than 10 pronunciation errors.