

Biodata: Seftika, Zulfa Sakhiyya, Januarius Mujiyanto, Abdurrachman Faridi, Widhiyanto

Seftika is a lecturer at Universitas Muhammadiyah Pringsewu, Indonesia. She earned her doctoral degree in Language Education from Universitas Negeri Semarang. Her research interests focus on multimodality and multimodal literacy in language education, as well as Teaching English as a Foreign Language (TEFL).

Zulfa Sakhiyya is Associate Professor at the English Department, Faculty of Languages and Arts, and the Director of Literacy Research Centre at Universitas Negeri Semarang. Zulfa is Fullbright Visiting Fellow at Ohio State University USA in 2023 and is member of the Indonesian Young Academy of Science (ALMI). She has a doctorate in education from the School of Critical Studies in Education, the University of Auckland. Zulfa receives the Barr Mosenthal Award from International Literacy Association in 2022, and Early Career Scholar Prize for Best Paper 2023 from Critical Policy Studies journal.

Januarius Mujiyanto is a Professor of Applied Linguistics at the Faculty of Languages and Arts, Universitas Negeri Semarang, Indonesia. He was inaugurated as Professor in 2016. His research interests include multimodality in language education, intersemiotic translation, Teaching English as a Foreign Language (TEFL), English as an International Language (EIL), and language assessment. Prof. Mujiyanto has published extensively in international journals and conferences on applied linguistics and English language teaching.

Abdurrachman Faridi is a Professor in the English Education Department at the Faculty of Languages and Arts, Universitas Negeri Semarang, Indonesia. He earned his doctoral degree from UNNES in 2008. His research interests include Teaching English as a Foreign Language (TEFL), English for Business Purposes, English for Young Learners, and applied linguistics. He has served as an advisor for numerous graduate students and published extensively in international journals on English language teaching, translation, and linguistics.

Widhiyanto is a Senior Lecturer of Literacy Education at the Department of English Language and Literature, Faculty of Languages and Arts, Universitas Negeri Semarang, Indonesia. He earned his Ph.D. from the University of Wollongong, Australia. His research interests include Systemic Functional Linguistics, discourse analysis through appraisal system, educational linguistics (literacy development and genre-based pedagogy), academic writing, and argumentation theory. He has supervised numerous postgraduate students and published extensively on interpersonal meaning construction in academic texts. He actively contributes to English language education research, focusing on how students construct and negotiate meaning in academic discourse.